Henry Moore Simpson; The Men of Wall street, illustrated; Life and Times of Bach, the Musician, illustrated; The Homes and Haunts of Famous British Poets, illustrated; The Man Behind the Hoe, and answer to Edwin Markham's poem. A Magnificent Christmas Cover. All the news of the Book World, Science, Music and Art. Five cents the copy, fifty cents a year. All newsdealers. Published by Siegel-Cooper Co., New York.

The December issue of Table Talk opens with a pleasant bit of poetry entitled "The Turkey's Jubilee" and is followed by a number of well written articles, among them of special excellence we mention, "The Cooking of the 'May Flower' Women," "A Borrowed Christmas," "Cheerfulness at the Table," "The Making of Men," "A Dainty Christmas of Ye Olden Days," "Christmas Facts and Fancies of many Countries," "The Children's Christmas" and "Gifts of the World." Illustrated Cookery is an attractive feature of Table Talk and several timely and tempting looking dishes enrich the pages of this month. Table Talk both teaches and illustrates the art of good cooking and of wise and economical living. It is a valuable assistant to housekeepers. Our readers can obtain a free sample copy by addressing The Table Talk Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Abolish the Stamp Taxes.

It is easy enough to spend money; it is difficult to practice economy; but in the face of such figures the people are showing a disposition to ask their Representatives to cut down a little, and especially to abolish some of the war taxes, which are not only unnecessarily onerous, but which in themselves are a constant inconvenience and in some respect a general nuisance. This is especially true of the stamp taxes—the taxes on checks, public documents and postal orders. If the present Congress should abolish a few of these, or all of them, it would deserve a better epitaph than the average national legislature receives after it ceases business on the fourth of March.

For Homes of Taste.

The famous old Delineator, which for 27 years has occupied a unique position in the American magazine world makes a great departure with the January number, just out by printing a prospectus of what will appear in the twelve issues for 1901. With the Delineator in the house half a million practical women know that they have the very latest dress news at hand, set forth in such a way that by her own needle each woman can keep up to date positively and inexpensively. The science of housekeeping, the care of children in sickness and in health, the art of living and of living well, a life progressive in a home beautiful—all of these things The Delineator is acknowledged to be the best exponent in the world.

Turkeys Are Low.

The turkey crop of Christian county is very large this season and the market is glutted with fat turkeys, as there have been no large shipments made this season. The prices range from 4½ to 6 cents gross and 7 to 8 cents net, but the supply far exceeds the demand on the local market and sales are hard to make.

Secret of Beauty

is health. The secret of health is the power to digest and assimilate a proper quantity of food. This can never be done when the liver does not act its part.

Doyouknow this?

Tutt's Liver Pills are an absolute cure for sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, malaria, constipation, torpid liver, piles, jaundice, bilious fever, biliousness and kindred diseases.

Tutt's Liver Pills

$1000 Worth of Good.

A. H. Thurness of Wills Creek Coal Co., Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones, with excruciating pain. After medicines only gave relief. After taking Foley's Kidney Cure the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust, like fine stones, etc., and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. Foley's Kidney Cure has done me $1000 worth of good. Take no substitute. A. P. Harness.

In the ladder of success there are many rounds of failure.

DIGEST YOUR FOOD.

Twenty per cent. of all sickness is caused by food not being properly digested. It creates poisons and goes into your blood and then you are liable to almost any disease the human system is heir to. Use Dr. Carlisle's German Liver Powder and watch the results. You will feel the good effects after taking one dose. Give it a trial and be convinced. Price 25c.

Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam Cures Your Cough. Just the Medicine for Children.

Ingratitude is a vice that renders all others less disgusting.

Maude R. Adams of Dayton, O., writes: Gentlemen—The requirements of the last social season, with late hours, promiscuous eating and irregular habits left me a physical wreck. Sick headaches, indigestion and sluggish condition of the organs were my daily torment until I tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Yours is truly a household remedy with us. Gratefully Yours, MAUDE R. ADAMS.

A good conscience is the most reliable witness a man can have.

Disease and danger lurk in the vital organs. The blood becomes vitiated and the general health is undermined whenever the stomach and liver fail to perform their functions as nature intended. Herbine will tone up the stomach, regulate the liver, where other preparations only relieve. Price, 50 cents. R. C. Hardwick.

The gloomiest mountain doesn't cast shadows on both sides at once.

For Horses.

Benj. Ingerson, of Hutton, Ind., says he had not spoken a word above a whisper for months, and one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice. It is used largely by speakers and singers. Take no substitute. A. P. Harness.

The prudent society belle tries to make her waist as little as possible.

The Latest Song

And how it goes is always of interest to some, but the condition of one's health should be first in the line of consideration. If you take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin you can't have Indigestion or Stomach Trouble. That is certain. C. K. Wily.

WHAT ACTING IS.

Views of Henry Irving Relating to Matters of the Stage.

"I have been termed natural and unnatural," says Henry Irving in an interview in the London Era. "Now, what is nature in the theater? If to have personality for a moment we are to act upon the curious advice of some of our friends and play Shakespeare without scenery and only boards—I do not mean a pun, please—and just announce 'This is a wood,' or 'This is a palace,' and thereby tell a deliberate tarradiddle, is that nature? I think not. Nature unadorned, we have it on authority, is the best. But all will agree that it is best not to carry that simile too far. We who present so many hours' traffic on the stage of the masterpieces of the world's literature strive for the poetic and true. We do not seek for meretricious show. We desire to let the playgoer see the play as it should be, and therefore we mount it as well and as accurately as we can. As to acting, eh? Well, well. Acting! what is acting? Before now these have been discussed by others. Yes, and by myself. As you say, by myself. No great harm in that. Still, what is acting? That is the question. Is an actor born? Perhaps; he is not exactly made, yet many actors have been made out of unpromising material. The point is that a man who feels he is an actor almost invariably succeeds in convincing others that he is right. So much depends upon temperament. Every actor who plays 'tragic parts has his theory about Hamlet. My dear friend, every man who thinks is Hamlet. Hamlet was a vacillating thinker, a dreamer, a person of inaction, who, like so many of us mortals, meant well, but practically did not achieve overmuch. So, every actor who essays the part on the stage, being somewhat of a thinker himself, plays Hamlet as he feels him; and the part can be played a hundred—nay, a thousand—different ways. And no one, no matter who he may be, can say whether any one particular reading is right or wrong; because we each and all judge the part from our own inward temperament and theory and criticism accordingly."

POSSESSED OF SOME HUMOR.

How Armand Grebaul won a Bet by Making a Man Laugh.

M. Admand Grebaul, president of the Paris municipal council, is a striking type of the French democrat. Some years ago he was an ardent supporter of Boulanger. Long brooding over the difficulties of creating a social position had imparted something lugubrious to his personality. He always dressed in black, his frock coat reaching almost to his heels. The Figaro man said that this coat and a pair of spats would make a shorter man a complete costume. Another feature was the high hat Grebaul wore. It was a poem in itself. He had a curious habit of brushing it with diverting frequency.

"One evening," writes a Paris correspondent of Mainly About People, "we were at the cafe, a dozen of us, drinking, smoking and gossiping as only Frenchmen can gossip. Suddenly Fernand Xau, the rotund, witty, jovial fil Blas chronicler, who now directs Le Journal with such signal ability, noticing Grebaul's melancholy air, roared out:

"Grebaul, you are positively depressing. Come, cheer up. I'll give you five louis if you contrive to make me laugh."

The young fellow, accepting the challenge, promptly set to work and finally produced a short paragraph, which he read aloud. He read it in such comical tones and the story was so irresistibly droll that Xau was compelled to smile. When the climax was reached, he burst into a roar of laughter and exclaimed:

"You've won your bet. There's the money!"

And he drew from his pocket 100 francs in gold, which Grebaul promptly pocketed, after having ordered a round of expensive drinks.

Imitation Carpet of Stone.

Think of an imitation carpet made of stone! Some of the more recently erected houses in the German cities have steps made of artificial stone, and a design imitating a staircase carpet, of any desired color, is pressed into the steps when the material of which they are made is still soft. The figures penetrate to a considerable depth.
